How do I create good stage pictures?
Gives Focus

By showing the audience where they should look.
Tells the story

The stage picture helps the audience understand the plot without needing dialogue.
Shows

Relationships

The audience can see how the characters interact with each other and understand their relationships because of what they see.
Is interesting to look at

- Because the actors use a variety of levels
- Because the actors are energetic
- Because the actors are engaged in the story
- Because the actors use their entire body to tell the story
Allows everyone to be seen

It is your responsibility as an actor to be sure that the audience can see and hear you—if they can’t, why are you there?
